Welcome

August 12, 2026

Hello! Welcome to CS 180 (Problem Solving And Object-Oriented Programming). My name is Iniyan and I will be your TA. This course primarily discusses the basics of programming, inheritance, exception handling, and a few algorithms and their implementations.

As we go through this course, I will share resources and information on this page. If you would like to meet with me to discuss this class, your grades, etc., you can request office hours with me here.

Generally, I am most responsive via email, but feel free to follow up if I don't respond in 1 business day.
